

Before reading "What's New?" write the section heads in the left-hand column. Then write questions you think the section will answer. As you read, stop after each section and write the answer you found to each question, if the section answered the question.

Answer

